

Currently, our city is not a subscriber to satellite radio. I visit cities such as Washington D.C., and it is nice listening to XM radio traffic/weather reports, while sitting in traffic. This way you can plan your route or listen to music without having to wait on the radio stations to give you an updated traffic report.